THE WINE MAKERS EDITION

The wine makers edition

I wanted to highlight some of the great wine makers and vineyards that we work with. Many we have exclusive arrangements for distribution, and we import these wines directly from the vineyards and cellars around the world. Wherever possible we work with sustainable, organic and some biodynamic wineries; most of the time they just make better wines.

Firth & Co Wine List 2021

The wine makers edition

A delayed publication this year for many obvious reasons. But I am delighted now to be writing the introduction to our 2021 and most likely half of 2022 wine list. How could the 2012 London Olympics be just about ten years ago?

We have been busy as ever searching out new and exciting wine discoveries for you, offering many different styles, countries, and flavours. So, I do hope you enjoy reading through, and also tasting through the "card". We do offer many discovery cases throughout the year so look out for those.

We do also offer some other products that are often overlooked, and I wanted to bring them to your attention. Firstly, hand-crafted ciders from master cider maker Tom Oliver and his fabulous and varied Herefordshire apple orchards. I have been so impressed with these and suggest you try some. Think cider and food, not cider and darts.

We also have a full range of the acclaimed Williams & Humbert Sherries, well worth having a look, and many are in half bottles.

A few others, The Toffee Shop fudge, from our friends in Penrith. David Hanson's Bay View Bees Raw honey from near Filey. Banhoek Chilli Oil from Stellenbosch, South Africa by Mike Ratcliffe and ex England Cricketer Allan "Lamby" Lamb.

Quite an eclectic range but all with one thing in common, people passionate about their products.

I hope that you enjoy all of our products and do give us a call to discuss.

Looking forward to hearing from you

Andrew J. Firth

White

3604	Gassac Classic Blanc 2019, Moulin de Gassac, Languedoc, France A true 'house wine ', made by our good friend Samuel Guibert of Mas de Daumas Gassac fame, in the Pays d'Hérault. A blend of Terret Blanc and Carignan Blanc will please all pallets.	6.95	8.34
3611	Sauvignon Blanc 2019, Terres Cortal, Languedoc, France In our opinion France produces the very best Sauvignon Blanc. Grown in the far south, this has excellent concentration of fruit without the higher acidities that are often found in the wines from the new world.	6.50	7.80
4515	Gavi Di Gavi 2020 Giordano Lombardo, Italy	10.95	13.14
7504	Sauvignon Blanc 2020, Ata Mara, Marlborough, New Zealand Grown in the premium vineyards of Marlborough, this is definitely a classy Sauvignon Blanc, refinded and fruit driven, with a good length. Up there in quality with much bigger names.	10.50	12.80
7508	Pinot Gris 2018, Ata Mara, Central Otago, New Zealand From the most southerly vineyard in the world, in Central Otago - famed for their aromatic wines due to the very slow ripening because of the very cool temperatures so far south.	11.95	14.34
1524	Macon-Solutre-Pouilly 2020, Domaine de la Chapelle, Burgundy, France The Maconnaise in the south of Burgundy produces a fruitier, more modern style of wine. Domaine de la Chapelle, first tasted by Andrew in Copenhagen, is grown at the foot of the 'Rock of Solutre '.	11.95	14.34
1523	Petit Chablis 2019, Domaine de la Motte, Burgundy, France A little fruitier and more modern than from the neighbouring Chablis, but a very approachable, steely dry wine from producer Stephane Brocard.	12.95	15.54
3603	Picpoul de Pinet 2018, Languedoc, France Grown overlooking the Mediterranean, this is the finest Picpoul that we have tasted, making the perfect match for seafood.	7.95	9.54
5512	Babiana 2018, Vondeling, Voor Paardeberg, South Africa A blend of Chenin Blanc, Viognier, Rousanne and Grenache Blanc and then given time in oak to knit the blend together. Full on, new world white that makes a brilliant match for most seafood dishes.	13.95	16.74

3627	Viognier 2019, Moulin de Gassac, Languedoc, France Southern French Viognier is one of the real bargains on any wine list. Always bursting with ripe fruit flavours of apricoat and peach with a slight nuttiness.	7.95	9.54
5508	Chardonnay 2020, Hamilton Russell, Hemel-en-Aarde, South Africa The best wine producing valley in South Africa. Hamilton Russell are sought after worldwide, renown for their Burgundian style.	27.50	33.00

3213	Chateau Ballan-Larquette 2017, Bordeaux, France House Claret at Firth & Co. Régis Chaigne produces this great Bordeaux in the Entre deux Mers in a fruity, youthful style, designed to be drunk young.	8.95	10.74
7210	Long River Shiraz 2018, Dowie Doole, McLaren Vale, Australia Spicy style, showing the fruit better then heavier, jammy shiraz from hotter parts of Australia. Dowie Doole really know how best to show their grapes off.	7.95	9.54
5702	Pinotage 2017, Southern Right, Walker Bay, South Africa A classically styled wine from a modern grape variety. Slow ripening in a cool climate allows full ripeness and complex flavours to develop within the grapes.	16.95	20.34

4716	Salice Salentino Riserva 2016, Cantele, Puglia, Italy From a tiny appellation in the heel of Italy. Aged in oak to soften and integrate, this is beautifully rich and intense, without over the top tannin.	9.95	11.94
4721	Morellino di Scansano Riserva, Geppetti, Tuscany, Italy Made from 100% Sangiovese, which is known as Morellino in southern Tuscany. Similar in style to Chianti, but with a more mineral edge from the more coastal soil and climate.	16.95	20.34
7202	Young Blood Grenache 2017, Tomfoolery, Barossa, Australia Looks can be deceiving. So light and pale in the glass, yet big and bold, unmistakably Barossa, in taste. A wine of true quality and interest.	16.95	20.34

4201	Enira 2016, Domaine Bessa Valley, Bulgaria From the owners of Chateau Canon la Gaffeliere of St. Emilion. Using Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon alongside Syrah, this wine is a cross between Bordeaux and a northern Rhone style, and wine that is definitely going places.	13.95	16.74

White Burgundy

The home of the Chardonnay grape, and this is where Chardonnay shows at its absolute best. Often developed with the careful use of oak to develop the aromas and flavours as well as to add longevity to some of the great wines. Great Chardonnay and great White Burgundy should never be dominated by the oaky flavours that spoilt so many New World imitators in years gone by.

Red Burgundy & Rhone

A straight run down the autoroute from Dijon to Avignon via Lyon runs through these famous vineyards. Different grapes; Pinot Noir, Gamay, Grenache, Syrah but a similar feel for red wine production affected by the warmer weather as you head south. This is the main artery of French food and wine, a total delight.

A long river with an expanse of vineyards covering much of it, this area provides every style of wine imaginable. The cooler climate here ensures crisp clean dry whites, but also great sweet wines, reds and even sparkling wines of great character. We offer just a small selection, but these are all excellent hand-crafted examples.

One of the finest regions of the World for red wines, but don't forget the white wines. The prices for the great wines of the Medoc continue to go through the roof, but the more everyday wines actually offer great value. My friends at the superb Chateau Ballan Larquette prove that.

Spain

The third largest producer of wines, famed for Rioja, Sherry and Cava, but many other areas are producing really interesting wines. The Albarino grape grown on the Atlantic coast of Galicia is something very special and unique. High in the hills of Ribero del Duero the reds produced there have a totally different character than Rioja even though they use the same grape (they just call it by a different name).

South Africa

This is a country with the potentially to produce great wines. They seem to have most of the key ingredients; climate, soils, terroir, experience and cuisine. Maybe it just takes a bit of time now, a bit more age on the vines, a bit more experience, and a bit more export activity. It is certainly a country I like very much, and I am a great admirer of their wines, always looking to further expand our range. We would like to think of this area as being a specialism of ours.

Argentina

Always a reliable source of well made, well packaged and crucially well priced wines. The new estates for this list are De Martino in Maipo in Chile and the Bodegas Gougenheim from Mendoza in Argentina. Both are independent family owned estates doing great things with the traditional grape varietals.
